

From research to industry: a PhD on GFRP-concrete hybrid structures.

Abstract:

The presentation will focus on the research on GFRP-concrete hybrid structures and their application on a footbridge prototype, developed by the speaker during his PhD. The proficiency acquired in the prosecution of certain key elements of the research presented, as well as the knowledge gained on the PhD courses taken, will be discussed and regarded as added-value to the PhD holder on the return to the industry.